 - 3.8.1.3. contrary to the requirements of the Financial instruments market law.
 - 3.8.2. advising a third party to carry out a transaction of financial instruments which would qualify as a personal transaction for the person who recommended the transaction, unless the transaction is recommended in the performance of his or her professional duties;
 - 3.8.3. to disclose information to a third party or to express an opinion if the person who disclosed this information knows or should have known that such disclosure of information would result in the third party carrying out the advice or advise another person to carry out such a transaction with financial instruments which would qualify as a personal transaction for the person who disclosed the information.

- 3.9. The company has the right to indicate that, for the purpose of carrying out personal transactions, the Customers of the Company, who are also officials or employees of the Company or persons associated with the Company, must inform the Company that they are engaged in personal transactions.
- 3.10. Company officials, employees and entities associated with the Company may make personal transactions with financial instruments on the same terms and through the same channels as the Customers of the Company.
- 3.11. If the organizational or administrative regulations established by the Company for the management of the conflict of interest are not sufficient to ensure the appropriate assurance, that any damage to the interests of the Customers will be avoided, the Company must clearly disclose to the Customer the nature and/or sources of the conflict of interest before the investment or ancillary services in question before the transaction to the Customer.

4. Prevention of conflict of interest situations in dealings with credit issuers

- 4.1. The adoption of decisions on the execution of new transactions with credit issuers or substantive amendments to the existing transaction rules shall be the responsibility of the Management board or of the committee established by a decision of the Management board ("the Committee"). The Committee may allow others, than only the Committee itself, to adopt decisions with respect to the credit issuers, by granting such rights with a risk based approach. The Management board, Committee or any other authorized decisionmaker further referred to as the "Decision Maker".
- 4.2. It is the responsibility of the Decision Maker to ensure that the terms and conditions for transactions with Affiliated credit issuers decided upon are not more favourable than the terms and conditions for similar businesses not affiliated with the Company and that they do not conflict with the interests of the Company and the Customers.
- 4.3. It is the responsibility of the Decision Maker to ensure that the terms and conditions for dealing with credit issuers who pay higher commissions to the Company are not more favourable than the terms and conditions of a similar transaction with other credit issuers and that they do not conflict with the interests of the Company and the Customers.
- 4.4. The Management board shall be responsible for ensuring that the requirements referred to in paragraph 3 of this Policy are met.

5. Handing and receiving gifts and entertainment

- 5.1. For the purposes of this Policy, a gift is a tangible or intangible value for which the recipient does not have to pay money for (e.g. food, drink, goods, services, tickets to entertainment/sports events, seminars, accommodation, etc.).
- 5.2. Employees must make sure that there is no corruption in the Company, including bribery or bribery or other inappropriate charges.
- 5.3. Employees shall be prohibited from requesting/accepting/offering/providing to Customers, suppliers, counterparties, business partners or other persons associated with the Company any material benefits or benefits to themselves or others that may ultimately affect the decisions of the Company with regard to the decision of the interested party or that person with regard to the Company.
- 5.4. Employees shall refuse a gift if the gift does not have a souvenir or a representative character (the nature of the memorial, not worth more than EUR 100 (hundred euro)) in any case, related to the Company; the employees shall not accept an invitation to participate in events if a suspected conflict of interest arises.

6. Identification and management of conflict of interests in the activities of the Management board members (officials)

- 6.1. Any member of the Management board should avoid any conflict of interest in his or her work and be as independent as possible from all external circumstances. The Management board shall, when taking decisions relating to the activities of the Company, respect generally accepted ethical principles and assume responsibility for the decisions taken.
- 6.2. Each member of the Management board shall be responsible for preventing any conflict of interest, including suspected conflicts of interest in its activities. When taking decisions, a member of the Management board shall take into account the interests of the Company and shall not use cooperation offers to the Company for personal benefit.
- 6.3. In carrying out his or her professional duties, a member of the Management board must identify in good time potential and existing conflict of interest situations and shall prevent themselves from making decisions on the business of the Company where they form or are likely to develop a conflict of interest.
- 6.4. The member of the Management board should act independently (independence of mind) and solely in the interests of the Company.
- 6.5. The employment or an occupation of a member of the Management board in competing companies with the Company shall not be allowed, with the exception of companies belonging to the same group of the Company.
- 6.6. A member of the Management board who is in a potential conflict of interest shall not have voting rights in decisions which may be related to this conflict of interests.

7. Responsibility, Policy Update and Control

- 7.1. The Supervisory board shall be responsible for the approval and implementation of the policy.
- 7.2. The Legal and Compliance team shall be responsible for monitoring and improving policy-related processes on a regular basis, but at least annually.
- 7.3. The Company shall review the Policy at least once a year and, if necessary, make the necessary amendments.

8. Other provisions
